Copley Hotel Goes Modern

Boston's Copley Square Hotel closed temporarily to undergo a $14 million renovation. The extensive project will include physical upgrades to the interior of the building as well the addition of a new, high-touch guest service philosophy, "Intuitively Yours." When complete and re-opened in the late spring, the hotel will reemerge as "a contemporary, four-star boutique hotel with stylish interiors and distinctive amenities for today's business and leisure travelers."
