

Historic Boston Hotel Undergoing Extensive Renovation

Located in the heart of Boston's vibrant Back Bay, the Copley Square is undergoing a $14-million renovation. The extensive project includes upgrades to the interior of the building, plus the addition of a new guest service philosophy, "Intuitively Yours." The hotel is transforming into a contemporary, four-star boutique hotel with stylish interiors and distinctive amenities. The grand reopening is scheduled for late spring.

Renovations include three distinctive venues for dining, cocktails and room service. Saint will remain open during the renovation process. Domani Bar & Trattoria will reopen in late February after minor work. The Back Bay Café will be refurbished and relaunched as XHALE, a casual dining restaurant offering a convenient meeting place for breakfast and dinner.

Guests will notice the striking lobby decor with its dramatic backlit panels, decorative silver light fixtures, candle niches and window treatments with a metallic sheen. Check-in and check-out will be quick and efficient with hotel staff using new, ultra-sleek registration

Pods.

After check-in, guests will relax and rejuvenate in one of the 143 newly redesigned rooms, featuring new interiors and baths both luxe and contemporary in feel. Sophisticated fabrics and textures will create timeless decors with a palette of champagne, cream, chocolate and taupe accented by heather gray. Guests will enjoy fully-stocked workstations with ergonomic chairs and an array of technology.

The Copley Square Hotel opened to acclaim on July 4, 1891, and has the distinction of being the city's second oldest hotel in continuous operation. As full of elegance and vitality as its surroundings, it has inspired generations of guests, including such luminaries as President William McKinley, sports legend Babe Ruth and jazz artists Ella Fitzgerald, Billie Holiday and Duke Ellington. With its unmatched location, ambience, service and guest amenities, it is sure to inspire many more. Contact: 800-225-7062, www.copleysquarehotel.com.
